

Gene Delmont And Otto Wallace Fight Fast Draw

CLEVER WORK OF MELODY HIS STAR RELEASES FANS; DELMONT IS FAST

Decision of Referee Billy Smith Is Well Received by Biggest Crowd of Fans of Season; Delmont Becomes Favorite by Clean Boxing, While Wallace Uses Elbows to Advantage and Hits in Clinches; Bout Good.

By RED RUTHERFORD.

GENE DELMONT maintained his record as one of the cleanest fighters in the history of local boxing when he defeated Otto Wallace in a fast draw fight on Monday night at the El Paso Auditorium. The bout was a real draw and would have undoubtedly won by a close margin had the referee not decided in favor of Delmont. The fight was a real draw and would have undoubtedly won by a close margin had the referee not decided in favor of Delmont. The fight was a real draw and would have undoubtedly won by a close margin had the referee not decided in favor of Delmont.

Wallace early started a race which was not popular with the fans, and took every advantage of every method to defeat his opponent. He was early as the second round he worked the ancient trick of jabbing and then coming in with a heavy right hand. He was early as the second round he worked the ancient trick of jabbing and then coming in with a heavy right hand. He was early as the second round he worked the ancient trick of jabbing and then coming in with a heavy right hand.

Wallace's left hand was on the job early and late, but in blocking virtually every left hand of his opponent by the middle of the fight. He was early as the second round he worked the ancient trick of jabbing and then coming in with a heavy right hand. He was early as the second round he worked the ancient trick of jabbing and then coming in with a heavy right hand.

Wallace's left hand was on the job early and late, but in blocking virtually every left hand of his opponent by the middle of the fight. He was early as the second round he worked the ancient trick of jabbing and then coming in with a heavy right hand. He was early as the second round he worked the ancient trick of jabbing and then coming in with a heavy right hand.

Delmont started to lead as early as the second round. In the first half of the fight he was in a position to win. He was early as the second round he worked the ancient trick of jabbing and then coming in with a heavy right hand. He was early as the second round he worked the ancient trick of jabbing and then coming in with a heavy right hand.

Delmont started to lead as early as the second round. In the first half of the fight he was in a position to win. He was early as the second round he worked the ancient trick of jabbing and then coming in with a heavy right hand. He was early as the second round he worked the ancient trick of jabbing and then coming in with a heavy right hand.

Delmont started to lead as early as the second round. In the first half of the fight he was in a position to win. He was early as the second round he worked the ancient trick of jabbing and then coming in with a heavy right hand. He was early as the second round he worked the ancient trick of jabbing and then coming in with a heavy right hand.

Delmont started to lead as early as the second round. In the first half of the fight he was in a position to win. He was early as the second round he worked the ancient trick of jabbing and then coming in with a heavy right hand. He was early as the second round he worked the ancient trick of jabbing and then coming in with a heavy right hand.

Delmont started to lead as early as the second round. In the first half of the fight he was in a position to win. He was early as the second round he worked the ancient trick of jabbing and then coming in with a heavy right hand. He was early as the second round he worked the ancient trick of jabbing and then coming in with a heavy right hand.

Delmont started to lead as early as the second round. In the first half of the fight he was in a position to win. He was early as the second round he worked the ancient trick of jabbing and then coming in with a heavy right hand. He was early as the second round he worked the ancient trick of jabbing and then coming in with a heavy right hand.

The First Hundred Yards Are The Hardest - - By Briggs

Matty O'Brien Drops Border Welter Title To Russell Chambers At Douglas; Frankie Fowler Defeats Dusty Miller; Many Bouts

SILVER CITY, N. M., Sept. 2.—Substituting for Joe Ferro, Dusty Miller, seventh round welterweight, stepped 10 fast rounds with Frankie Fowler, of El Paso, here Labor day afternoon, the decision being awarded to the latter on points. The contest was originally scheduled to go 10 rounds, but as Fowler had repeatedly knocked out his opponent, the fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

POWER MOVED CLEVERLY. Fowler used a clean left jab throughout the contest, and pinned Miller's body with his right. Miller contented himself with being on the defensive, and was unable to land a single blow. He was taken out of the fight by a single punch to the head.

AD AND YOUNG FRANCE. The contest between Ad and Young France was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

JACKSON BEST DUNDEE. The contest between Jackson and Dundee was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

MITCHELL DEFEATS HAMMER. The contest between Mitchell and Hammer was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

COOGAN IN VICTORY. The contest between Coogan and his opponent was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

MAKEY DEFEATS CORDOVA. The contest between Makeny and Cordova was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

WHITE WINS BOUT. The contest between White and his opponent was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

AD AND YOUNG FRANCE. The contest between Ad and Young France was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

JACKSON BEST DUNDEE. The contest between Jackson and Dundee was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

MITCHELL DEFEATS HAMMER. The contest between Mitchell and Hammer was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

COOGAN IN VICTORY. The contest between Coogan and his opponent was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

MAKEY DEFEATS CORDOVA. The contest between Makeny and Cordova was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

WHITE WINS BOUT. The contest between White and his opponent was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

AD AND YOUNG FRANCE. The contest between Ad and Young France was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

JACKSON BEST DUNDEE. The contest between Jackson and Dundee was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

MITCHELL DEFEATS HAMMER. The contest between Mitchell and Hammer was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

COOGAN IN VICTORY. The contest between Coogan and his opponent was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

MAKEY DEFEATS CORDOVA. The contest between Makeny and Cordova was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

WHITE WINS BOUT. The contest between White and his opponent was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

AD AND YOUNG FRANCE. The contest between Ad and Young France was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

JACKSON BEST DUNDEE. The contest between Jackson and Dundee was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

MITCHELL DEFEATS HAMMER. The contest between Mitchell and Hammer was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

COOGAN IN VICTORY. The contest between Coogan and his opponent was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

MAKEY DEFEATS CORDOVA. The contest between Makeny and Cordova was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

WHITE WINS BOUT. The contest between White and his opponent was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

AD AND YOUNG FRANCE. The contest between Ad and Young France was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

JACKSON BEST DUNDEE. The contest between Jackson and Dundee was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

MITCHELL DEFEATS HAMMER. The contest between Mitchell and Hammer was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

COOGAN IN VICTORY. The contest between Coogan and his opponent was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

MAKEY DEFEATS CORDOVA. The contest between Makeny and Cordova was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

WHITE WINS BOUT. The contest between White and his opponent was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

AD AND YOUNG FRANCE. The contest between Ad and Young France was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

JACKSON BEST DUNDEE. The contest between Jackson and Dundee was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

MITCHELL DEFEATS HAMMER. The contest between Mitchell and Hammer was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

COOGAN IN VICTORY. The contest between Coogan and his opponent was an unpopulated decision. The fight was taken on a decidedly one-sided appearance. It was stopped by the referee, and the verdict given to the El Paso scrapper. Miller showed extreme gameness, but was simply up against a faster and more clever man in Fowler.

TERRIBLES AGAIN LOSE TO RIVAL ENGINEERS; DODGERS BEST ZONE

Hard Hitting Neyland Aggregation Wins Second Victory Within Two Days When Tompkins Nine Goes Down to Defeat; Zone and Dodgers Engage in Bitter Game in Which Bakers take advantage of Walks.

MAJ. R. R. NEYLAND is not going to take any chances on losing the pennant of the Army and City baseball league. He demonstrated this Monday afternoon by sending Bronson Reed in for the second time. In two days rather than trust a less experienced twirler who may have proved an easy mark for the consistent hitting of the Terribles. Reed justified the confidence placed in him by his commanding officer, the Terribles, by hitting the Dodgers for a home run. The Terribles played an excellent fielding game, with the exception of the shortstop position. Neyland did some work at this post, but the little fellow also made some glaring blunders which helped the scoring not a little bit.

WAS RESENT DAY. The game was played for the benefit of the burial fund for veterans of the world war, which is in charge of Robert E. Lee chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy. More than 500 fans witnessed the two games and while the card was not as good as the Terribles' game, they felt that they received their money's worth in the second game.

The game was played for the benefit of the burial fund for veterans of the world war, which is in charge of Robert E. Lee chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy. More than 500 fans witnessed the two games and while the card was not as good as the Terribles' game, they felt that they received their money's worth in the second game.

The game was played for the benefit of the burial fund for veterans of the world war, which is in charge of Robert E. Lee chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy. More than 500 fans witnessed the two games and while the card was not as good as the Terribles' game, they felt that they received their money's worth in the second game.

The game was played for the benefit of the burial fund for veterans of the world war, which is in charge of Robert E. Lee chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy. More than 500 fans witnessed the two games and while the card was not as good as the Terribles' game, they felt that they received their money's worth in the second game.

The game was played for the benefit of the burial fund for veterans of the world war, which is in charge of Robert E. Lee chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy. More than 500 fans witnessed the two games and while the card was not as good as the Terribles' game, they felt that they received their money's worth in the second game.

The game was played for the benefit of the burial fund for veterans of the world war, which is in charge of Robert E. Lee chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy. More than 500 fans witnessed the two games and while the card was not as good as the Terribles' game, they felt that they received their money's worth in the second game.

The game was played for the benefit of the burial fund for veterans of the world war, which is in charge of Robert E. Lee chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy. More than 500 fans witnessed the two games and while the card was not as good as the Terribles' game, they felt that they received their money's worth in the second game.

The game was played for the benefit of the burial fund for veterans of the world war, which is in charge of Robert E. Lee chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy. More than 500 fans witnessed the two games and while the card was not as good as the Terribles' game, they felt that they received their money's worth in the second game.

The game was played for the benefit of the burial fund for veterans of the world war, which is in charge of Robert E. Lee chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy. More than 500 fans witnessed the two games and while the card was not as good as the Terribles' game, they felt that they received their money's worth in the second game.

The game was played for the benefit of the burial fund for veterans of the world war, which is in charge of Robert E. Lee chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy. More than 500 fans witnessed the two games and while the card was not as good as the Terribles' game, they felt that they received their money's worth in the second game.

The game was played for the benefit of the burial fund for veterans of the world war, which is in charge of Robert E. Lee chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy. More than 500 fans witnessed the two games and while the card was not as good as the Terribles' game, they felt that they received their money's worth in the second game.

The game was played for the benefit of the burial fund for veterans of the world war, which is in charge of Robert E. Lee chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy. More than 500 fans witnessed the two games and while the card was not as good as the Terribles' game, they felt that they received their money's worth in the second game.

OVER 450 REPUBLIC

Trucks in El Paso tell the story of satisfactory service to Republic users. Every size Republic—from 1/4 ton to 3 tons—may be seen in a few moments watching carrying burdens of merchandise along El Paso streets.

ASK REPUBLIC OWNERS ABOUT RESULTS

Southern Border Motor Co.

311 Montana Street. Phone 490.

Dove Season Now On

The Dove season in both Texas and New Mexico is now on. Let us supply the needed ammunition and guns, and you will always bring home the game. We also sell the New Mexico hunting license. You will need it later in the season, anyway, so buy it now and get full privilege.

Mail Orders

WE make a specialty of out of town orders. Let us know what you need and we will forward it promptly and guarantee satisfaction.

Shelton Payne ARMS COMPANY

Headquarters for Sporting Goods

317 Texas St. El Paso, Texas.